Transnational Ties: Australian Lives in the World

Edited by Desley Deacon, Penny Russell & Angela Woollacott

Published by ANU E-Press

Transnational Ties is the first publication of the ANU.Lives Series in Life Writing, an initiative of the newly-formed National Centre of Biography (NCB) in the History Program, RSSH, ANU, in association with ANU E-Press. It is with great pleasure that we are hosting this symposium and launch for the first publication in the series.

Symposium

Tuesday 3 March—MacDonald Room, Menzies Library, The Australian National University

2.00 pm-5.00 pm

The program for the Symposium consists of a panel of commentators who will each discuss the book. The editors and authors who are able to attend will respond. A general discussion will then follow.

The speakers are:

Professor Kay Shaffer, Adjunct Professor, Gender and Labor Studies program, School of Social Sciences, University of Adelaide

Dr Peter Stanley, Director, Centre for Historical Research, National Museum of Australia

Professor Ann Curthoys, ARC Professorial Fellow, University of Sydney

Professor Paul Pickering, Research School of Humanities, ANU

Professor Desley Deacon, Research School of Social Sciences, ANU

Professor Angela Woollacott, Modern History, Macquarie University
